BIG LEAGUES TO PLAY AT CARUTHERSVILLE

The following dispatch from Caruthersville is taken from the sporting page of Sunday's Commercial Appeal:

Southeast Missouri, for a long time the subject matter of special writers for the metropolitan newspapers, is to make her debut this year as the newly discovered location for spring training camps for baseball clubs, when Manager Harry Clarke and the vanguard of the Milwaukee, American Association, baseball club arrives in this city next Saturday afternoon to take up spring training and practice.

Games scheduled here are:

March 11 and 12: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. St. Joseph, Western League.

March 18 and 19: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. Minneapolis, American Association.

March 24: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. Memphis, Southern Association.

March 25 and 26: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. St. Joseph, Western League.

April 2: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. Boston Red Sox, American Association.

April 8: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. St. Louis Cardinals, National League.

April 9: Milwaukee, American Association, vs. Brooklyn, National League.

CAPE MORNING SUN'S REMARKABLE OFFER

The Missouri Herald desires to call the attention of its readers to the remarkable subscription offer made by the Morning Sun of Cape Girardeau, which appears elsewhere in this issue.

The Sun is the only Daily Newspaper in Southeast Missouri that has the Associated Press news service which is recognized throughout the world as the most dependable and accurate service in existence. It does not claim to be one of the large papers of the state or nation but those who want to keep informed and get the news in condensed and readable form, can get it by subscribing for The Sun. The Sun carries all the local news and has special correspondents in all parts of Southeast Missouri. It also carries a daily market report that is valuable to farmers, merchants and others.

The Morning Sun was started about two years and a half ago and during that time it has grown in circulation and popularity until it is recognized as the leading Daily of this part of the state. Its remarkable growth is due to its unequalled news service, its strong editorial policy, its complete market reports, and to the fact that it reaches the great majority of readers only a few hours after it is published.

The offer to secure this paper at the low rates offered for a year or a six month's subscription, is an exceptional opportunity. — Adv.

USE YOUR 'PHONE.

We don't like to apologize for our shortcomings in the production of a newspaper and shall not, but this being an issue of explanations on our part, due to the several innovations we have undertaken, it is perhaps due to us to say that owing to the uncertainty that we would receive our new newspaper heading in time for use this week, it was difficult to prepare copy for the change we expected to make, and, therefore, little or no composition could be done at the usual time. While the heading was drawn in this office, by an attaché of the office, the engraving had to be made in St. Louis, the plate not being received until Wednesday morning, since when practically all of our copy and composition has been produced. This also accounts somewhat for our shortage of local news, as our limited office force had to busy themselves with inside work, and the people of this town fail to use their telephones as they should. People, that is the best way to get the worth of your telephone—use them to tell us the news. If what you do isn't worth reporting, tell us your neighbor—tell us what he is doing, has done, or is expected to do. If you will do that, we shall always have enough "locals" of the very best sort to fill all the space we can afford to devote to that purpose. Now, don't everybody "get on the wire" at once, but tell us the news.

Three-fourths of the people are gullible if the right man comes along with the right thing.

—Get a big bundle of newspapers at The Herald office for a dime.

CAPT. ALLEN

Tuesday evening our editorial 'phone rang. It was Capt. Allen's voice that came over the sleet covered wires, and so warm in sympathy it's a wonder the ice didn't melt from the threads of steel and fall to the ground. "Want to congratulate you," he said. We knew then at least one person in town had learned of the contemplated change in The Herald. We don't know how the "leak" occurred. It was our intention to let the change in the paper announce itself. But Capt. Allen always was a ferret in the affairs of Hayti. He was always first to sniff the approach of either good or evil headed this way. Not since the passing of Dr. G. N. Hayes, founder of the town, in 1899, has Hayti had one so watchful of her interest as Capt. Allen, and even in those days he did not play second fiddle to any one. He was here to congratulate the writer on the production of the first real paper the town ever had. He is one of the human landmarks of pioneer days that yet stand by the roadside of man, to cheer and encourage the traveler on his way. We are glad that Capt. Allen is still here, hale and hearty, aged only in the count of time and is as full of "pep" as a man of twenty-one.

Thank you, Captain. We shall do the best we can, but don't want too much expected of us. While some of us are bettered by age, there is a limit where the rule turns, and that limit is reached much sooner if one has borne a heavy load, as has unfortunately fallen to the lot of some of us. As we do not want to disappoint anyone, we request that but little be expected of us.

Some people even think they concede a great deal if they allow other people to think as they please.

Dr. R. C. Cresswell attended to business at Caruthersville Monday.

Every business man in Hayti should remember this paper cannot be what it should be, and represent every interest of the community without the cordial support of everyone interested in the place. The more advertising in these columns, and the more paid-up subscriptions on our books, the more able we are to employ good men and advertise the town far and near. If it can be said that no better local weekly paper is published in the State of Missouri than the Missouri Herald, it will add a prestige to this community we could not otherwise have. We shall strive to do our part, and we put it up to you to do yours. What do we hear you say?

The early blooming shrubbery and daring daffodils, which have had the temerity to peep from the ground in order that they might bring delight into the hearts of those who love flowers, have suffered severely from the return of winter after the recent visitation of Spring. March came in more like a wet, polar bear, than like the raging lion. We hope to see it go out "sheepishly."

FRISCO FIREMAN FALLS.

Paul Walker, fireman on 805, through morning passenger south, while the engine was taking water at a tank at Sikeston yesterday morning, fell from the tender, but fortunately escaped with only slight injuries. Jim Tines, another fireman, happened to be a passenger on the train and took Walker's place, bringing the train to Hayti. Reaching here, Mr. Briggs, another fireman, "shoved her through" to Memphis, and Mr. Walker went to St. Louis for hospital treatment.

ONE OF THE MOST TIRESOME AND TIME CONSUMING JOBS AROUND THE PLACE IS—

PUMPING WATER

Hayti's new water system is now a reality, everything in ship-shape, working fine, and plenty of good water. This is a Hayti institution, owned by the people of Hayti, to be paid for by the people of Hayti, and can be supported by none but Hayti people.

Therefore, the sooner Hayti people take hold, have water placed in your homes, and in every way you can produce customers for water, just that much sooner it will be placed on a paying basis, and we as well as our Mayor and Board of Aldermen, will know just where we are, and how to operate the plant to the best advantage.

I am very anxious in two ways:

1st—All my interests are in Hayti and I am naturally proud of our water works and want to see it made a success and serving every man, woman and child in Hayti.
2nd—I have a full supply of plumbing goods, have plumber's license, and a good man to do any kind of plumbing work, and am in a position to operate the business as cheap as any one could possibly do it.

I am handling nothing but first class, quality goods, and will permit nothing but first quality work. I want YOU to start using water and if it's nothing but a kitchen sink and one opening, I want to have this put in for you and get you started.

I have some rate cards showing the cost per year for every kind of business; come in and get one and let me talk over your water problem with you.
